The problem is that table entry elements are indented too far if the table is inside an `itemizedlist`.

Standalone table:

Value	Meaning
none	No rules are used in the table.

Inside an `itemizedlist`:

- | Value | Meaning |
|-------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| none | No rules are used in the table. |
