

OASIS Open Standards Day Moscow 2005

Date: April 26, 2005

Place: World Trade Center, Moscow

Call for Papers Now Open

The Call for Papers for OASIS Open Standards Day Moscow 2005 is now open. This one-day event, co-located with three-day BITS Russia 2005 Conference and Expo, is designed for providers, integrators, and buyers of business and government integration solutions. Presentations should focus on OASIS Standards and their application in areas such as service-oriented architectures (SOA), business process management, security, distributed computing and integration.

Deadline for abstracts is February 18.

Topics will include the role of standards in IT as well as all aspects of Web services and service-oriented architectures (SOA), including integration within and across enterprises:

- Interoperability and Standards
- Drivers Behind Standards Adoption
- The Business Case for SOA
- Web Services Security, Discovery, Orchestration, Management
- Transitioning Successfully to SOA
- Business Process Management
- Web Services Success Stories

Speaker Candidates

Ideal candidates are OASIS TC chairs and active contributors to specifications relevant to conference topics. Prominent implementers, integrators and users of OASIS Standards and specifications, Web services technologies and SOAs are also welcome.

If you have potential to deliver a substantive, challenging and original presentation, you are encouraged to submit a proposal. In the proposal, please highlight your credentials and previous speaking engagements.

Benefits of Speaking

Organizers will cover travel costs¹ and provide two-night accommodation at the hotel co-located with conference site for all OOSD visiting speakers. The event's Russian host, UnitSpace, will provide visa support, transportation to and from the airport, and will do everything to make your stay in Moscow enjoyable.

Speakers will receive visibility in pre-conference promotion in print and online. They will also receive exposure via the accompanying OASIS Open Standards Day Moscow portal for months prior to and following the conference. Sessions may be recorded and made available via the Internet to a wider audience (at the discretion of conference organizers).

Guidelines for Submitting a Proposal

If you want to be a speaker at this OASIS Open Standards Day event, please email submissions@open-standards.ru now and make sure to submit your proposal on or before February 18. Timing constraints are not flexible as they are caused by visa processing requirements. Please consider the following:

- All submissions remain the property of their owners.
- All conference sessions are vendor-neutral. Proprietary or confidential information should not be included.
- If you would like to highlight your company's technology or product, please consider exhibiting in the separate exhibition hall (see conference Web site for information).
- Submissions deadline is February 18, 2005.
- Final materials from presenters are due by April 1, 2005.

¹ Limitations apply, please inquire for details.
