

Fremantle, Western Australia
September 21st 2016

To whom it may concern,

Document Engineering Services, a company that provides eBusiness consultancy services has successfully implemented the Business Document Naming and Design Rules Version 1. Committee Specification approved 14 September 2016 in accordance with the conformance clause contained in Section 6 of the specification.

This was on behalf of the Australian Digital Business Council in the development of an XML Schema and validation artefacts for the Australian electronic invoice standard interoperability framework.

Your sincerely,

Tim McGrath
